'round town

with Betty Allen...

Having to compete with Carlton Morse, who contributed to last week's edition, is pretty stiff competition, but here goes—

Not a week goes by but someone urges me to say something about Campbell Ave.—the dirt—the speeding cars and the wide open mufflers.

It is pretty difficult to discuss a subject unless there is a possibility of a solution. It is a certainty that the highway patrol is not going to come every time a speeder tears down the Avenue making a noise like the end of the world.

About the only remedy will be a patrolman of our own in the event the residents of Campbell vote to incorporate.

Another vexing street problem could be taken care of if we have our own police department. Many of the merchants are complaining that customers cannot park near their stores because many who work all day at the cannery park on the main street and some who prefer to leave their cars here and take a bus to San Jose (which has its own parking problem) park in front of the stores.

If we controlled the matter we could have a time limit on parking, forcing those who park all day to do so on the side streets. A by-product of this would be the handsome revenue in fines which would accrue for the city treasury.

On the subject of the local merchants, there was much food for thought in Rachel's ad last week. Patronizing our local merchants is not only a form of loyalty to our town, but a time-saver and convenience.

Our store keepers are clever and tireless buyers who are doing their best to supply our demands in these days of shortages. We can rely on their initiative to get us "things" if they're "gettable".

As Rachel's ad suggested we might as well "take it easy" and wait for our wants to turn up. They'll show up here as soon as anyplace else . . . or maybe sooner.

School Enrollment Tops Last Year

On opening day at the Campbell Grammar School the total registration was 1410, which is approximately 200 more students than were present on the first day of the last school year.

There are more than 40 small children on the waiting list for entrance into the kindergarten and William Henley, principal, says that every effort will be made to run another session in addition to the present morning and afternoon ones.

The cafeteria was prepared to serve 500 students on the opening day, but was confronted with 700 instead, which they managed to serve.

There is still enough furniture for the large classes, but teachers say if any more enroll they'll be standing up. Crowded conditions will be relieved when the two new grammar schools, voted for in the recent bond election, are erected. One site has been approved for purchase by the County Planning Commission, the County Superintendent of Schools and the State Department of Education. This is the Miller property lying on the south side of Pollard Road, between Harriet and Burrow. The second property is in the process of receiving the three necessary endorsements.

At the High School, there was a total registration of 635, which was a large increase over the opening day of last year, but only a slight increase over the total enrollment at the end of the spring semester.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Rites Held For Nick Hedegard, Distinguished Resident

Scores of fellow townsmen paid tribute to a distinguished citizen Monday afternoon when final rites for Soren Nicolaj (Nick) Hedegard were held in his former ranch home on Winchester Road, now the Rutherford Funeral Home, and the flags of the Campbell schools were lowered to half-staff.

Hedegard's 72 years were filled with successful business ventures and aggressive civic undertakings. In his devotion to the future of Campbell he combined a practical realism with a visionary far-sightedness. He was instrumental in forming the Campbell Grammar School District and later the High School District and served on the Grammar School board for 18 years.

One of the last achievements of Hedegard was the removal, at his insistence, of the arrow on the

"Campbell" sign on Winchester and Campbell Ave. for he felt that when a motorist arrived there he was in Campbell.

Hedegard died without seeing one of his earnest hopes realized—the incorporation of Campbell. Taken to the hospital with a stroke, on Sept. 9, he died a few days later.

Campbell's unofficial mayor was born in Aalborg, Denmark, and came to America at the age of 17. After two years of farm work in Iowa he moved near Houston, Texas, and in 1894 observed the first rice crop grow in that State. He took up rice growing for himself and later, in 1905, moved to Watsonville, where he raised apples for seven years.

He then went back to rice raising and grew the first rice crop for commercial use in Butte County in 1913; then the first in Colusa County and Stanislaus County, as well as pioneering crops in Yolo, Tulare and Kern Counties. A member of the Pacific Rice Growers Association he had at one time nearly 1500 acres in rice.

Hedegard came to Campbell in 1918, raised prunes and apricots and headed the Hedegard Fruit Co. In 1938 he built the home adjoining his ranch house which his widow now occupies.

He was one of the early organizers of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, and the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District.

Interested in real estate, he was a director of the reorganization of the San Jose Building and Loan Co., developed the Heart of Willows, a Willow Glen subdivisino, the Hedegard subdivision, and part of the P. G. Keith subdivision. Many of the streets in Campbell are named for his children.

Scouts To Have Exhibit At Fair

By Dudley Herschbach
Scout Reporter

An 18 by 40 foot booth will hold the Scout display at the Santa Clara County Fair during Sept. 17-22, and will feature Cub Scout, Boy Scout, Sea nad Air Scout exhibits. Booths 6A and 7A were made available for the exhibits through the generosity of the County Fair Association. The public is urged to visit the display.

The exhibit is to include mounted pictures of camping and other activities, handicraft, flags, camp gear, knot boards, model camps, bridges, and signaling towers. Air Scouts plan to provide an airplane, while the Sea Scouts will add a small boat, charts, code flags and other items to the display. Every branch of scouting will thus be represented in the exhibit.

Cub and Scout leaders will be present at the booth and will furnish information. They will also register parents who wish their boys to become cubs and maintain a register for former scouts.

Background for the d isplay includes a large poster showing a scout against a camp scene flaked by rustic walls of redwood and pine slabs.

Scuts will also maintain a "Scout Service Section" at the Fair rendering the following services: eight scouts will give out programs, two will be messengers at the front gate, two at the Scout booth; while one Scout will serve as a messenger at the sheriff's office, and one at the First Aid station.

Sanitary Commissioners Re-elected

Three unopposed incumbents were re-elected to Campbell Sanitary District posts at Monday's election in which 19 votes were cast. The three are G. E. Farley, assessor, 19 votes, four-year term, and H. M. Shadle, 17 votes, and Ethan Lanphear, 18 votes, re-elected to two-year terms on the Sanitary Board. Election officials wers Mrs. H. F. Cousins, William M. Wolff, and Mrs. Lillie Frazier.

MRS. GRIM TO BE HOME SOON

Mrs. Ira Grim, who has been ill in the hospital for some time, is reported on the way to recovery, and is expected home soon.

Plans For Election On Incorporation Proceed Rapidly

Plas for bringing about the election on incorporation are steadily progressing with the deposit of funds to cover the costs of publication of petition and notice of hearing and which are required by law within 15 days after the petitions are turned in to the Supervisors.

This, in addition to the publication of notice of election, will be the only costs required by the Board of Supervisors, since the County pays the costs of the actual election, which, in this case, is expected to be a special one.

The Board of Supervisors will now proceed to fix a time for hearing and must give two weeks' notice by publication before the time of hearing. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time, not exceeding two months in all.

At the final hearing the Board establishes the boundaries and gives notice of an election to vote on the issue at least two weeks prior to the election.

The Campbell Taxpayers' Association is soliciting funds to cover these initial costs and report that any and all amounts will be welcomed. The list to date is: John McBain, $25.00; Campbell Furniture Co., $25.00; Conley Realty Co. $25.00; Ford Plumbing Co., $25.00. Campbell Taxi Company, $25.00. The Campbell Press has agreed to publish the legal notices at half of the customary legal rate, thus cutting the cost by approximately $250.

For some reason the belief has been widely circulated here that the matter would have to be taken before the State Legislature before it became legal. According to E. B. Hughston, finance clerk of the Board of Supervisors, this is not necessary. In the event the voters elect to incorporate, the Board shall meet the first Monday after the election and, if the canves is correct, the Board shall by an order declare the city incorporated. It shall then file a copy of the order duly certified in the office of the Secretary of State, and from that date the city shall be considered incorporated.

Since the publication of the probable expense many readers have requested a summary of the probable income. Since the boundaries will doubtlessly be altered by the Supervisors and since the boundaries will determine the number of people taxable and the amount of the assessed valuation it will be impossible to predict these figures even approximately. However, the following is a list of the sources of revenue which would furnish the income.

Education In State Faces Crisis Unless No. 3 Bill Passes

By LOUISE TORDT

Education in California faces a crisis—the most serious this State has ever known. The public schools of the State, crippled by a shortage of teachers, and overcrowded classrooms, are confronted with the problem of educating the largest number of children California has ever known.

Proposition 3, which was put on the ballot last spring by 600,000 citizens of California is an amendment, which, if passed, will prevent the collapse of the State educational system.

Proposition 3 provides:

(1) That State support of the public school shall be at the rate of not less than $120 a year for every pupil in average daily attendance. This money comes from the State and is not taken from local taxes.

(2) It provides for a minimum solary of $2400 per year for full-time teachers. This minimum salary would encourage more young people to go into the teaching profession.

The following are a few of the startling facts that show why this amendment is necessary:

(1) Grammar school enrollment will double by 1954. (2) California must find 40,000 teachers in the next eight years. (3) Schools must have more State support. (4) The number of young people training to teach is at an all time low because of poor pay. (5) Ten per cent of the State's population is under six years.

Buck Bros. Open San Jose Office

Because they could find no site in Campbell zoned for industrial purposes, Earl and Eugene Buck have established their structural steel business in San Jose. The business, started in May, has grown by "leaps and bounds" and the new business men will start two complete structures soon, one in Centerville and one in Los Gatos.

The steel trusses for A. C. Currie's new building were furnished by them and they are also handling the trusses for the new Post Office building.

According to Earl Buck, if suitable space becomes available here they intend to move their business back to Campbell.

Eugene Buck served in the Engineers Corps handling heavy equipment in the South Pacific during the war, and his brother was employed at Food Machinery Company.

Mrs. Lillian Voge, Former Librarian, Dies In Berkeley

News of the death of Mrs. Lillian Voge, member of a Campbell pioneer family and former librarian here, came yesterday from Berkeley, where Mrs. Voge was hospitalized for two weeks prior to her death. She was believed to be recuperating satisfactorily and her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Voge resigned her position at the library in July and went to San Fernando to make her home with her sister, Mrs. E. Clyde Glass, librarian at the San Fernando Veterans' Hospital. When she became ill she was taken to the Berkeley hospital in which she was a patient last December.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Smith, Mrs. Voge came to Campbell shortly after graduating from Grinnell College in Iowa. She lived on the family ranch on McCoy Ave. and has watched Campbell grow from the early 1900's. Her father was one of the chief instigators of a high school for the district and the family has made many contributions to the development of the community.

The mother of four children, the former librarian has had a life of wide interests which have ranged from experiences abroad to teaching school in a California mining town.

Mrs. Voge was greatly missed this summer, for her gentle and intelligent guidance at the library was deeply appreciated by both young and old. She would go to any effort to help a person who could use her assistance, for the library was not merely a source of livelihood to her, but a way of serving the community.

She was a charter member of the Country Woman's Club and also a member of the Congregational Church.

Surviving Mrs. Voge are her four children, Hervey and Noel Voge of Berkeley, Captain Melvil Voge of New York City, and Mrs. Evelyn Penfield of Chicago who arrived in San Fernando during her mother's illness; there are also seven grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Dorothea Glass, San Fernando; and three brothers, Stanley Smith, Campbell; Gordon Smith, Los Altos; and Harold Smith of Nashville, Tenn.

Services will be conducted on Friday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. at the Little Chapel of the Flowers in Berkeley.

Business Changes Add New Faces To Shopping District

There has been a flurry of changes and additions in Campbell businesses recently with several new faces now on the scene.

Of considerable interest is the announcement that the State Railroad Commission will hold a hearing tomorrow morning as a preliminary step in the sale of the Kennedy Water Co. to the San Jose Water Co. This company covers all territory west of Winchester Road to Hazel Ave. Russell Kennedy, owner and founder, at one time had the Campbell Water Co.

Another sale is that of the Campbell Barber Shop which has been purchased by John Walters from John Fortini. Walters, whose first love is barbering, has been ranching the past two years since he suffered an accident. He reports that he is very happy to be back at his trade and is more than pleased with his new location. The new owner of the shop has many friends here since he lives nearby on the Almaden Road.

A. C. Currie's new building on Winchester Road is in the final steps of completion and Currie will soon be settled in his new real estate office. Occupying the adjoining store will be James A. Brand, who is starting a furniture and appliance business. Brand was recently discharged from the Army after four years and seven months' service with 21 months overseas duty. His home was formerly in Whittier. Mr. and Mrs. Brand have two children, Dorothy, who will attend Campbell Union High Schol, and James, who is enrolled at Campbell Elementary School.

Lloyd Nelson's new sporting goods store is expected to open its doors within the near future and he reports that an appliance store will occupy the other part of the new building.

Just opened at 201 Campbell Ave. is Boyd's Cash Grocery. Owners of the new venture are Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Boyd, formerly of Los Angeles. Mrs. Boyd lived for two years in Los Gatos at one time so, she says, the beauty of the valley is no surprise to her.

Charlie Rose has taken over the Orchard City Grocery after selling his Salinas store. His father, Dan Rose, says he will now devote his time to his ranch and other enterprises. Charlie made a name for himself in Salinas as a fight referee and was extremely popular with the Camp McQuaide fighters and their fans. He hopes to be the third man in the ring in San Jose on many occasions.

Hearing On Rose Petition Set Over For One Week

Dan Rose's petition for rezoning on Latimer and Winchester, which has been batted between the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors for months has been continued for a week during which time the Commissioners will make a personal inspection of the property.

Rose wishes to build a grocery store on the site and 150 property owners in the vicinity originally signed petitions asking for the rezoning.

At the last hearing before the Supervisors, Rose's attorney, John M. Burnett, argued for the re-zoning and accused the Planning Commission of freezing private enterprise.

Mrs. Clifford Gerlach, whose home is directly across the road from the proposed store, argued that the store is not a public necessity.

Tea Given In Honor Of Local Matrons

Two Campbell women are being honored this Saturday at the weekly artists' tea in Little Patio sponsored each Saturday afternoon by the shops in the "Little Village" in Los Gatos. Mrs. Mabel Fossum will have a display of ceramics which will include lamps, cigarette boxes, ash trays, plaques, vases and several assorted dishes.

Mrs. Fossum has shown unusual ability and originality in her work which she took up only two years ago. Her interest aroused while attending adult education classes at the High School, she began making pottery as a hobby and now has her own kiln at her Campbell Ave. home. She also does glazing for others engaged in the art of pottery making.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Fossum, is Mrs. Winifred Tonkin, whose hand woven fabrics will be shown during the afternoon. Experienced in all types of weaving, she is featuring upholstery materials for slip covers and draperies. Among the materials used for these fabrics are fine wools, linen, glass, rayon, jute and raffie. There are many fabrics made in fast colored cottons, also.

A comparative newcomer to Campbell, Mrs. Tonkin uses her skill at the loom in her Whiteoaks Ave. home. Los Angeles was her former home where she studied textile designing.

Both women demonstrate the ability of hobbies to grow into profitable business ventures for both have examples of their handicraft on sale at Richard Wall's interior decorating studio in Los Gatos and Mrs. Tonkins disposes of a large amount of her products through her New York agent. The City of Paris department store in San Francisco also handles her material and is showing her work in its current California textile display.

Hours for the tea on Saturday are from 2 until 5 in the afternoon and all those interested are invited to attend.

FOOTLIGHTERS WANT BARN

Campbell's amateur theatrical group, The Footlighters, are looking for a place to meet and want to find one in which they can store their props.

They are hoping that a likely looking barn will turn up which will be big enough for meetings and rehearsals.

Jack Anderson To Address Kiwanis

Congressman Jack Anderson will be the speaker at next week's Kiwanis luncheon, and a large attendance of members and guests is anticipated. The subject will be the Bikiini tests which he witnessed.

Kiwanis members entertained their wives and guests at a dinner Tuesday evening and heard Paul Ganshirt of the San Jose Police Special Service Department discuss juvenile delinquency. He brought out the fact that Campbell is not above reproach in this matter and suggested various activities designed to guide young people in the proper way.

Mr. Ganshirt stated that he found most delinquency was caused by not giving children enough demonstrations of affection until it was too late. He also cited broken homes as a major cause of youthful troubles.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Toppin, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lea, Mrs. Mae Greaves, Miss May Farley, and Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffers.

A. C. Currie was presented with a three-year perfect attendance pin and Lawrence Osborne with one year's.

Sept. 23 has been set as the date for the district convention which will be held at the Palomar Hotel in Santa Cruz.

According to the old timers, the last time incorporation was brought to a vote was in 1906. At this time it was voted down by the majority of voters.

In 1906 it is quite possible that the town was not ready for incorporation and was not inconvenienced by County government.

Things have changed materially in the past 40 years and the present mechanics of government are not efficient enough for an area this size. It is in keeping with the times, that we are to have an opportunity to vote on this question, for it is certainly no triumph to be the largest unincorporated area in the State.

If the voters say "yes" we will have the opportunity to make our city one to be proud of in every way.

TITO DEAL EXPOSED

WASHINGTON—When the full details of the Teheran conference are told, they will show that after Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill finished dividing up the Balkans—one of the worst things FDR let them do—Stalin then sold Churchill on the trigger-happy little dictator who recently caused such a crisis between the United States and Yugoslavia.

Marshil Stalin, at that stage of the Teheran conference was in expansive mood. He had beaten down Churchills insistence that the second front against Hitler be staged through the Balkans and had put across an agreement instead that Russia take over Romania and Bulgaria, with Britain getting Greece and Yugoslavia.

So at this point, Stalin gave his friend Churchill some advice. The Adriatic coast of Yugoslavia and the areas in which Britain is especially interested, he said, are Croatian, not Serb. Therefore General Mihailovitch, a Serb, was the wrong man to run Yugoslavia. Instead, Stalin offered Churchill his mad Tito, a Croat.

Those are the inside facts on how Churchill happened to take on Tito, and how the United States immediately switched tons of valuable lend-lease equipment to Stalin's puppet-in-disguise.

The finishing touches to this tragic error were applied when Churchill sent his bungling son, Randolph, together with equally bunglnig Brig. Fitzroy McLean, to serve as liaison officers to Tito. They, in turn, played right into the hands of Stalin's shrewd plan to steal Yugoslavia right out from under the British.

When Dictator Tito fired on U. S. airplanes recently it was not the first time he had shown his teeth. His first snarling display of force came forward the end of the war as relations between himself and the British began to cool.

One night Tito's headquarters were raided by a Nazi airborne division and he barely escaped. It so happened that on this particular night, Randolph Churchill and all other Britishers left Tito's headquarters for the first time in two months.

Tito was beside himself with rage and suspicion, figured the British were out to doublecross him, and shortly thereafter flew to Bari, Italy, then headquarters for refugee Yugoslavs.

As Tito's plane landed, several hundred Yugoslavs armed with tommy guns surrounded it. No British official was allowed anywhere near their chief. Later Tito was invited to dine with Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, British commander in the Mediterranean, and arrived at dinner with two dozen husky Yugoslav guards, who lined up with tommy guns on both sides of the dining room.

"I say, marshal," remarked General Wilson, "isn't this a most unusual procedure?"

"This, general," replied Tito, "is a most unusual war."

Next day he flew to Bucharest, conferred with Russian officials, then returned to Yugoslavia. His cooperation with the British was absolutely dead. He was now openly working for Russia. Meanwhile the United States had poured milllons in lend-lease material into Tito's hands.

Shortly after that, when British commandos landed at Split on the Yugoslav coast to try to head off the German army, Tito's men disarmed the British and sent them back to Italy.

BALKANS BREED CUTTHROATS

Today in Yugoslavia, Tito is anything but popular and, if it wasn't for the support of Russia, he would be out on his ear. The Serbs, who formerly ran the country, don't like him, because he is a Croat and they have been put on the sidelines. The Croat people don't particularly like him because they are strong Roman Catholics and he is a Communist. Only people who really like Tito are the Montenegrins, and their leaders adore him—for a very special reason.

The Montenegrins are the born fighters of Yugoslavia. Living in one of the rockiest countries in the world, they have nothing to do but fight—or migrate to America, which they did in large numbers before the war. Almost every third Montenegrin you met in the old days spoke a little broken English and had worked for a time in the steel mills of Pittsburgh or Youngstown.

BALKANIZING AMERICA

Although the mystery is unsolved as to how the grand mufti of Jerusalem was permitted to slip out of his comfortable villa in France to Egypt, some highly important additional information has now leaked out about his activities—as a result of U. S. Army cross-examination of Nazi prisoners. The cross-examination lays bare Hitler's plot to Balkanize the United States; also to stir up terror against the Jews. For Hitler the two projects invairably went hand-in-hand.

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

Last week a widower of 83 made the news by getting a license to wed a girl of 19. Sunday afternoon the happy two were married by the Campbell Justice. It was the elderly man's fourth marriage and his bride's first.

The groom gave his occupation as retired; the bride, hers as none. Though so unequal in age the two seemed alike in mood, good-humored and playful. Both said "I do" with enthusiasm. Their home will be in a trailer camp. Here will be little housekeeping and few chores, and much time for love making.

The young disturber of the peace, about 30, who had been sent to the jail farm for not keeping his solemn promise to the judge was released last week to see if he would keep his solemn promise to follow a definite life program, the need of which his first failure suggested. In particular he will pay his father $10 a week for room and board. This step will be one in the effort to grow up.

At hand is a new schedule of fees agreed upon by members of the Santa Clara County Bar Association. For an uncontested divorce the fee is listed as $150. For a Superior Court trial the rate is $150 a day. For representing a defendant in a criminal appearance here the fee is $100. Filing a civil complaint for anybody here is $50, and answering such a complaint is also $50.

In Justice Court services a criminal appearance is $50, and the trial rate is $75 a day.

Telephone consultations come at $2.50 for ten minutes or less; office consultations, $5 for loss than half an hour and $10 for half an hour or more. These and the other fees became effective the first of August.

All of these charges are lessons in the good sense of keeping the peace and out of the troubles that mean suits, court appearances and trials.

THE MOUNTAINS

The mountains raise a sense of peace
And awe within man's breast,
Overpowering beauty and an air
Of strength and calm and rest.
When from beneath the stormy, ominous
Darkening clouds of rain
The sun comes out with erie glow
And shines upon the lane;
It touches on the valley and
The mountain tops revealing
Each tree, each rock, and sends man's mind
Far, far beyond all feeling.

Oh guardians of our valley
Rising so tall and proud,
Whether bathed in day's bright sunlight
Or swathed beneath fog's shroud,
Facing wind and rain and storm,
Enduring every test,
Keep standing through the ages
Bringing peace into man's breast!

Veterans News

Recent legislative changes in law again re-emphasize the advantages of National Service Life Insurance as protection for the veteran's family.

As the law now stands, any person who had active service between Oct. 8, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945, may take out a term insurance policy, convertible after one year to one of the many permanent plans now available.

All the applicant has to do is to pay the necessary premiums and show evidence of good health. Free physical examinations will be given by the Veterans Administration out-patient service.

The law further specifies that the health requirement may be waived in the case of a disability resulting from or aggravated by service, provided the disability is less than total.

Question: May I name my niece as the beneficiary of my GI insurance?

Answer: Yes. Under the new insurance law, you may name any person, corporation, bank or other legal entity (including your estate, as beneficiary of NSLI.

Q. Can a veteran pay his NSLI premiums by deductions from compensation or retirement pay being paid to him through the VA?

A. Yes. The policy holder may authorize the monthly deduction from such sources, provided the income is sufficient to cover the entire premium.

Q. Are members of the Merchant Marine eligible for benefits under the Servicemen' Readjustment Act?

A. No.

Q. Why is it necessary to have property appraised in order to obtain a GI loan?

A. The law requires that the purchase price paid or to be paid for property, or the cost of construction, alterations and improvements, must not be more than the reasonable value thereof as determined by proper appraisal made by a VA-designated appraiser. This provision and the appraisal it entails are requirements made by Congress for the protection of the veteran.

ADA REBEKAS CONVENE

The Ada Rebekah Lodge convened Tuesday evening, Sept. 17, with Ruth Livingston, Noble Grand, presiding.

Distinguished guests were Gertrue Argall, District President of District No. 3, Noble Grands from Saratoga, Sunnyvale, Los Gatos, Josephine Lodge, San Jose, and Santa Clara. Vice-Grands from Saratoga, Los Gatos, Josephine Lodge, San Jose, Santa Clara and Cupertino.

Marjorie Livingston entertained with several vocal numbers accompanied by Elizabeth Gilgallen, and Elizabeth Gilgallen rendered several piano numbers.

A rummage sale is planned for Sept. 26, 27, and 28, at the Odd Fellows Hall. Any member having any articles are asked to bring them to the hall.

Angela Quetin and committee served refreshments at the close of lodge.

The next regular meeting will be Oct. 1, when Honor Nite will be observed. The Past Noble Grands Club will be in charge.

LEAVES FOR MARIANAS

Miss Dorothy Keesling said farewell to her fiance, Al Witzell, at Fairfield Air Port this week when he left aboard an ACC plane for Guam, where he has accepted a position as an instructor in the Army Air Corps.

Witzell is an ex-Navy flier and he plans to return to California next June. The young couple have set their wedding date for the following August. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keesling are the parents of the bride-elect.

The Dutch windmills in Golden Gate Park in San Francisco—one of the largest in the world—pump water from wells into the seven man-made lakes scattered through the park.

Pedro de Tovar, sent by Coronado in 1540 to inspect Hopi Indian villages of Northern Arizona, thus learned of the existence of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River.

Romance of Food

By Larry Blake

Chances are you have never eaten a "haggis" and never even intended to, but let me give you a tip.

Right now, faced with another meat shortage, this ancient Scottish-English dish can go far toward relieving the pressure of your personal meat problems and give you something decidedly different for a main course.

Many claim, although it isn't at all true, that you have to have the bag pipers swirling through your kitchen while the haggis bubbles and steams on the stove. And it is a matter of record that it isn't at all necessary to stimulate your appetite for haggis during the cooking operation with an occasional sip of Scotch. This helps, of course, when done in moderation, but close attention to the details, plus a little imagination, will enable you to turn out an excellent haggis. Just follow instructions and forget both the bag pipes and the Scotch.

Incidentally, and strictly for your education anent the subject of haggis, this very estimable dish is not exclusively a Highland dish. This haggis was made and eaten widely in central and northern England for centuries, as many references attest, thus exploding another Scottish myth.

But to get on with the haggis, and not wander too far from our subject.

Purchase the heart, lungs, liver, tongue, kidneys and stomach of a calf or sheep. After a thorough washing, set the stomach to one side. Now finely chop the other meats, and include a pound of bacon or sausage meat, if you can get it. To this add another mixture comprising pint bread crumbs, or mixed ground suet and oatmeal; handful chopped onions, 2 or 4 sardines or twice as many anchovies; 1 teaspoon salt; grated lemon rind and 2 eggs beaten up with lemon juice. Mix with the meat and stuff the mess into the stomach. Sew up and boil or steam in pot 2 to 3 hours. Slice and serve with gravy. Some people prefer habbis cold, but that's merely a matter of taste.

John Wise of Philadelphia, balloonist, flew from St. Louis, Mo., to Watertown, N. Y., on July 1, 1859, covering 1120 miles in 20 hours.

Spotlight

By Mary Lynne Thompson

In the Spotlight this week is a man who for many years has been a familiar figure in Campbell. His name is Jack (and we bet you didn't know this) Elvert Murdock. For the past 13½ years he has been secretary of the Campbell Water Company.

He was born on Oct. 23, 1909, in Santa Rosa, Calif. His father was a native Californian, his mother came from Mississippi, and one set of grandparents came straight from Ireland (no doubt this is where he gets his sense of humor). His family consisted of 10 brothers and two sisters.

He is a graduate of Campbell Union High where he covered himself with distinction. He won 12 letters in sports, basketball, baseball and tennis. He was in the annual operetta for three years and had the lead in the senior play. Was on the student council, senior class president and president of the student body. Continuing his activities after entering college, where he majored in commerce and journalism, he served as president of the glee club, was on the student council, assistant editor of the daily college paper and during his sonphomore year, class president. He also won the tennis championship in the Far Western College Conference.

Mr. Murdock takes an active part in community affairs and belongs to many clubs. Is a member of Kiwanis, a past district deputy of Odd Fellows and member of Elks lodge. In the line of community welfare, he has been a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and during the war years was the Community Chest campaign manager, a member of the gallon club (made up of 7 qt. blood donors), and for the past four years has been chairman of the Infantile Paralysis fund.

Acting is his hobby, and besides the high school plays, he is a member of the Footlighters and has appeared in around 20 plays. The role he enjoyed most was in "It Pays to Advertise". He plays comedy and character roles.

Married to Arlene McCord, he is the proud father of a boy and a girl, Jim and Sharon. This is probably his favorite role.

The United States, New Zealand, and Iceland possess the only great geyser basins in the world.

TO START SCHOOL ON MONDAY

Miss Mary Lynne Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thompson, is among the San Jose State College freshmen, who will start their fall studies on Monday.

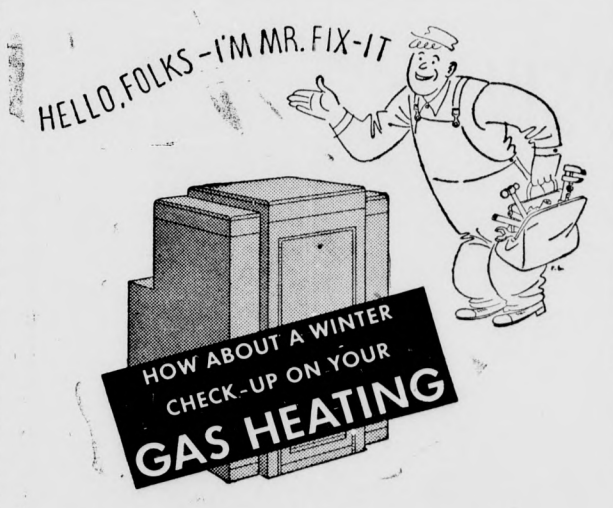
Hawaii National Park in the Territory was created in 1916.



It pays to 'tend to things ahead of time, especially the "fix-up" adjustments and repairs of Gas Heating equipment. Cold wintry weather is not far off. Do what you can yourself or play safe and call a gas heating repair man before he gets snowed under with the coming winter season rush of work.

It will pay you to put new filters into your Forced-Air Furnace. More heat...faster...cleaner results from this low cost replacement.

You'll be amazed at how much dirt, dust and lint collects in your Floor Furnace pit or Cold-Air return of your Furnace. Clean out all of these places for more efficient heat and cleaner heat.

If your furnace does not seem to be acting "just right" have an overall check up made of thermostat, regulator, motor, fan and filters...It's good heat assurance to do this.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

ADD FINISHING TOUCHES TO CANNING NOW!

(See Recipes Below)

LATE CANNING

Well, the summer's about over, with late fruits peeping through the leaves in the orchard, and the last of the season's vegetables pushing up through the earth. I am assuming you have most of your canning done, but there there are some things that cannot be canned until late. That time will soon arrive, so be prepared!

Sometimes it is the things canned late that are the sweetest and best turned out. That may be because we're in practice, but perhaps, too, it's because things like pears and grapes are in season, and the family likes end-of-the-garden pickles best of all.

Look over what you've canned during the summer before winding up with ao final session of canning and try to balance the cannig supboard and fill in spaces with the foods you need. Our recipes today are of a variety to help you do just that.

Pear Butter

Wash pears, do not peel. Slice and add a small amount of water to start cooking. Cook until soft, then press through a colander. To each cup of pulp, add ½ cup sugar, and a few spices, if desired. Cook to a paste, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

You know fruit butters will spread a lot of slices of bread this winter and put a damper on that rifling of the cookie jar. Here's how it's done with apples:

Spiced Apple Butter

4 gallons prepared apples
1 gallon sweet cider
4 pints sugar
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Pare, core and slice apples. Boil cider until reduced by one-half. Add apples to cider while boiling and cook slowly until the fruit is soft. Press through a sieve and then return to fire and continue cooking, stirring frequently to prevent burning. When the fruit begins to thicken, add sugar and spices. Cook until smooth and thick. Pour into sterile jars and seal while hot.

End-of-the-GardenPickles

1 cup sliced cucumbers
1 cup chopped sweet peppers
1 cup chopped cabbage
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup chopped green tomatoes
1 cup chopped carrots
1 cup green beans, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 cup chpped celery
2 cups vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons turmeric

LYNN CHAMBER'S MENUS
Stuffed Pork Shoulder
Silvered Carrots and Onions
Green Beans
Mashed Potatoes Gravy
Garden Salad
Biscuits with Honey
Plum Cobbler Beverage

Soak cucumbers, peppers, cabbage, onions and tomatoes in salt water (½ cup salt to 2 quarts water) overnight. Drain. Cook the carrots and string beans in boiling water until tender. Drain well. Mix soaked and cooked vegetables with remaining ingredients and boil for 10 minutes. Pack into sterile jars and seal.

Two preserved fruits that are both pleasant and satisfying are Grape Gumbo and Peach and Apple Conserve. Here are preserves that will add that magic touch to the meat course during winter:

Grape Gumbo

4 pounds seeded grapes
1 orange, thinly sliced
¾ pound seeded raisins
4 cups sugar

Cook all the ingredients unutil the mixture is of the consistency of marmalade. Pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Conserve needs stirring and watching so that it does not stick. Do not cook too long or these delicate fruits will lose their color.

Peach and Cantaloupe Conserve

1 pint diced peaches
1 pint diced cantaloupe
2 lemons, juice and grated rind
3 cups sugar
1/3 cup walnuts, blanched and chopped

Combine ingredients with the exception of nutmeats. Cook until mixture is thick and clear. Add nutmeats and pour into sterile jars. Seal while hot.

Both plums and apples are late-in-othe-season fruits, yet they make delicious jelly if you still have enough of your sugar ration left.

Crab Apple Jelly

Select sound crab apples. Wash and remove blossoms. Cut into quarters without peeling. Barely cover with water and boil until fruit is tender. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure and bring juice to a boil. Add ¾ cup of sugar to each cup of juice and boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and seal immediately.

Plum Jelly

Wash plums and cover with cold water. Boil until plums are quite soft. Press juice through jelly bag, sctrain and measure. Bring juice to a boil and add one cup of sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to jelly stage, then pour into sterile glasses and seal at once.

Plum and Orange Jelly

5 pounds plums, cut up
6 oranges
1 lemon
Sugar

Wash plums, cover with cold water and bring to a boil. Add oranges and lemon and cook until plums are soft. Drain in jelly bag. Boil extracted juice 15 minutes and to every 4 cups of juice, add 3 cups sugar. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterile glasses and seal.

When you rout out all the jars and caps that seem likely prospects for your home canning, or jars and caps to share with neighbors, you can set aside at once some kinds that won't do. Into the discard group go jars and caps that have any crack, nick, dent, or any other defect that would keep a jar from sealing airtight. And set aside, too, odd shaped and very small jars. They can be used for preserves or other purposes where a paraffin seal is adequate.

Western style jeans and plaid skirts for girls have just arrived! Where? Rachel's of course. We will no longer hear the boys moan about girls buying all their jeans. One style is all blue, while the other has orange stitching—very smart. The shirts are bright and heavy. Popjular denim pedal pushers are also to be found.

"American Heroes", "Andersen's Fairy Tales", "Garden Almanac", "The Tall Book", "Tell Me About God" and "Dictionary for Children" are some of the children's books at the House of Riches. The inexpensive Golden books with such titles as "The Three Kittens", "Toys", and "Nursery Rhymes" are beautifully illustrated with colored pictures. There are cowboy and Indian stories for boys of the in-between age. A book any child would enjoy is "History of Our Country" told in an interesting manner and containing vivid pictures. For the very young are animated books and stories, with large pictures of animals which unfold from the books. These should keep the youngsters entertained for some time. Although this large selection of books is for youngsters from 2-16, you adults had better plan a little extra time for shoppnig when purchasing them—you'll be fascinated.

Another long absent article is now on the shelves at Campbell Hardware — Soda King super chargers for either metal or glass lined rechargeable soda syphons. These chargers not only save time but also save money.

Campbell Pharmacy has a selection of toys in which your youngsters would be interested. Some of these are toy plastic dishes, dart boards, picture puzzles, sewing sets and an intriguing game of adventure on a pirate island!

We now have a local dealer who will take your order for having your children's baby shoes preserved. There are a variety of colors—pink, blue, white, ivory, clear and the usual bronze. If you desire, the shoes may be mounted to be used as book ends, ash trays or paper weights. Clark's will be glad to take your order.

Wool sport jackets in three sizes with blue or brown checks are to be found at Benson's. These come in small, medium and large. They are just right for these fall days and should be of special interest as the prices have been reduced.

You should have one of Dee's Catchy Bibs for your youngster who is learning to feed himself. Made of clear water-repellant film these bibs are easily washed and, as they have sleeves and catch pockets, they keep the clothes well protected. Smaller bibs of the same material, cloth bibs, and oil cloth bibs are also on hand at the Dresser Drawer.

Round metal trays, barrel shaped vases, and cook books are among the recent arrivals at The What Not. The metal trays are hand painted with fish or bird designs and are especially practical since the paint stays on as it is not affected by acid or alcohol. The barrel-shaped vases are brown with a cream-colored Hawaiian design. "Western Recipes", "Cookie Book" and "Salad Book" are the names of the new cook books which contain many tempting recipes.

The first successful balloon flight in England took place on Sept. 15, 1784, when Vincent Lunardi, a young Italian, demonstrated the success of the balloon before a great multitude in London, including the Prince of Wales.

The word "calico" comes from Calicut, India, whence it was first exported.

Movie Star Inspires Poem

The followig poetic tribute was inspired by a chance meeting with Van Johnson, current movie idol, in Santa Cruz. It is the joint efforts of Marilyn Ott and Jeanette Gomes who, accompanied by Jeanette's sister, Joyce, had just emerged from a theater in which they watched the glamorous star on the screen only to see him a few minutes later in the flesh. The paper on which the poem is written bears the autograph of the famous star and is never allowed to leave their possession.

Van Johnson is on location in Santa Cruz and the girls saw other film stars including Thomas Mitchell, Russell Simpson and the leading lady, Janet Leigh.

VAN, VAN, HE'S OUR MAN!

After seeing in Santa Cruz, "Easy to Wed",
In which Van Johnson did star
We heard some ladies who breathlessly said
"Why he's down at Hotel Palomar!"

Excited we ran, just thinking of Van,
Hoping that we could see
That tall terrific hunk of man,
Oh! Brother! he's for me!

There we stood with others who waited,
And soon came a sleek black sedan
While we wondered and debated,
Out stepped a man, Egad kids, it's Van!

He laughed and smiled and gladly signed
Any scrap of paper brought into his sight.
After answering questions which he didn't seem to mind,
He called Joyce, "Honey", to her wonderous delight.

We'll never forget that wonderful time
with that freckled-faced sandy haired man.
Swooningly we end this in rhyme
Dreaming only of that Johnson man, VAN.

Discarded Clothing Needed

Clothing of all kinds, especially clothes for men and school children, are seriously needed at this time according to a statement issued by Miss F. Edna Boyd, executive secretary of the Goodwill Industries of Santa Clara County. Goodwill Industries stores and offices are located in San Jose.

Conditions in the textile industry are cited by Miss Boyd as the principal cause for the present scarcity of garments. The price increases on retail clothing also has increased the numbers of those in search of Goodwill merchandise.

Goodwill Industries is operated for the benefit of the physically handicapped, the aged and the needy. Clothes and household articles donated to Goodwill Industries are repaired and cleaned and resold to under-priviledged persons. The profit goes to pay honest wages to Goodwill employees who are recruited from the ranks of the handicapped, aged and needy of Santa Clara County.

Persons wishing to contribute discarded clothing, furniture or household articles are invited to send a penny postcard to Goodwill Industries, 351 Lincoln Ave., San Jose, and the big red Goodwill truck will call.

Goodwill Industries has been operating nationally since 1902 and has maintained a Santa Clara County office in San Jose since 1916.

Carl Field Jr., who is a student at Stanford University, will be business manager of the Stanford daily paper this coming school year.

Where To Go-- What To See

So you missed last weekend's big events—you couldn't get away—you're sad and mad. Don't take it so hard, pardner! The coming weekend is one of the most promising of all. You can take in a county fair, thrill to a rodeo's buckin' broncs and steers, join in a real old-timers' celebration, pay tribute to the heroic pioneer spirit of another day at the Donner Centennial Celebration, or admire the beautiful and unusual displays of a professionally supervised art and garden show. Get out that road map, or that train or bus schedule and plan yourself a weekend of fun and relaxation. The Travel and Recreation Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce blueprints the following events from which to choose your "pison":

Orland: Glenn County Fair, Sept. 18-21. There'll be a horse show and running races, as well as all the usual fair features, throughout the four days of this first postwar Glenn County Fair

Marysville and Yuba City: Yuba-Sutter Horsemen's Association First Annual Rodeo and Western Daze, Sept. 20-22. A "Fun Parade" will open the three-day program on Thursday night, Sept. 19, at 8 p. m., followed by a "whiskerino" contest. A general parade at 2 p. m. Friday, beginning in Marysville and ending in Yuba City, will be led by Major General Albert M. Jones, commandant at Camp Beale, with entries of sheriff's posses, civic organizations, business firms, bands and horemen's groups.

Benicia: Old Timers' Celebration and First Annual Horse Show, Sept. 20-22, sponsored by Benicia City Council. Boxing matches, an old fashioned show, a children's pet parade, old timers street parade, dances, bicycle races, horse show at 2 p. m.

Ross: Marin Garden Show, Sept. 20-22. On the site of the old Kittel estate in Ross (opposite the fire station) in an eight-acre setting of 100-year-old trees and restored gardens. Described as a "small-scale World's Fair", the show will feature a combination of art and garden displays. Works of such well-known artists as Jose Moya del Pino, portrait painter and muralist, whose murals decorated the Temple of Religion in the California Building at the last World's Fair, Percy Gray, William Rauschnabel, and Max Pollack, may be viewed.

Truckee: Donner Centennial Celebration, Sept. 21-22. Marking the one hundredth anniversary of the Donner incident, which in its broader aspects marks the whole westward movement, the principal event will be the Donner Memorial services at Donner Monument, Sunday morning, Sept. 22.

San Jose: Santa Clara County Fair, Sept. 17-22. At the County Fairgrounds, 2½ miles south of San Jose on Highway 101. This six-day fair will feature livestock and poultry shows, three horse shows, track events, fruit, flower and vegetable displays, 134 booths of industrial exhibits, women's handicrafts, junior division, an art show, military demonstration, free dancing, carnival shows, a spectacular program of free entertainment. Sulky racing and aerial acrobatics will take place every afternon and three hours of free dancing to a 12-piece orchestra every night. A circus lion act of eight jungle-bred Nubian lions, stunt skating on top of a moving automobile, a revue, fast jugglers and comedy acts are a part of the entertainment features.

San Francisco: St. Francis Regatta, Sept. 22. At St. Francis Yacht Club. The last regatta of the closing series of the season.

Hollister: San Benito County Saddle Horse Show, Rodeo and Fair, Sept. 20-22. Fourteenth annual horse show will be staged at Bolado Park, eight miles south of Hollister. The first show since 1941, it will feature 28 track and eight arena events on each of the three days.

Tulare: Tulare-Kings County Fair, Sept. 17-22. The first postwar event of its kind in the two counties, expected to exceed all previous records of attendance, attractions and exhibits. This display of produce of the ranking agricultural area in America, and in the world, will offer the highest premium list of any previous Tulare-Kings County Fair, with $72,000 available for distribution to exhibitors.

San Gabriel: "Bells of San Gabriel", Sept. 21-22. The last weekend for this outdoor fiesta of song and dance at historic Mission Bown, San Gabriel Mission. Curtain at 8:15 p. m. both nights.

Prompt as she can be...

At times, there may be a delay before you get the operator. That's because never before have so many people made so many telephone calls.

New equipment to care for record volumes of telephone traffic—and to provide service for all waiting applicants, too—is being made and installed as rapidly as possible.

Meanwhile, our operators are doing all they can to provide the prompt, courteous service you have been accustomed to. Thank you.

LICO'S MARKET

REG'LAR FELLERS By Gene Byrnes

Rites Held For Nick Hedegard

Despite his many business activities he found time to take an active part in community and fraternal organizations and organized the Danish Brotherhood Lodge No. 303 of Woodland, which he served as president. He was also past president of the Danish Society of Dania, past master of Charity Lodge, 362, F. & A. M., charter member of the Easter Star, a member of the San Jose Scottish Rite Bodies, past president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, past president and charter member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club, and past master of the Orchard City Grange.

The Rev. Robert Carlson of the Congregational Church, delivered the eulogy at the funeral which was conducted by Charity Lodge No. 362. Pallbearers, all Masons and personal friends, were Al and Vic Christopher, John Petersen, Harry Barns, Art Robinson and Stanley Smith. Graveside services were conducted by the Danish Lodge at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Hedegard is survived by his widow, Annie M. Hedegard; three children, Leo and Sanford of Modesto, and Mrs. Esther Rees of Campbell; three brothers and sisters, Mrs. Andrea Wilson of Los Gatos, Chris Hedegard of Cupertino, and Signe Hedegard of Denmark; and four grandchildren.

DEATH CLAIMS ABRAHAM LESTER

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at Darling - Fischer Garden Chapel for Abraham Lester who died yesterday in San Jose. Interment will be at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Lester, a native of England, is survived by his widow, Susie Lester, and two children, Mrs. Ernest Anderson of San Jose, and Mrs. Roy Arndt of Los Angeles. He also leaves one grandchild and a sister, Mrs. L. Hamilton of Oakland.

To entertain occupation troops in Italy, the staff of the Tarvisio Red Cross club staged a state fair this summer, with snake charmers, fortune tellers, gift bazaar and carnival decorations.

Organizations Endorse Prop. 3

The addition this week of 22 new groups to the already impressive list of organizations that have officially endorsed Proposition 3 —which guarantees a $2400 yearly salary to California's school teachers—was announced today by the California Council of Education.

All these organizations, by resolutions, stated that the guaranteed salary of $2400 was the only way California's school system could be protected from deterioration.

The latest endorsing groups include, San Joaquin Valley, Orange County and Santa Rosa councils of the State Chamber of Commerce; Railroad Brotherhood, San Francisco Local 890; Railroad Brotherhoods Joint Legislative Council of Southern California: National Citizens Political Action Committee, and the Southern California Chapter of the NCPAC.

Los Angeles CIO Council; Jewish War Veterans, Department of California; Los Angeles District Council of Jewish War Veterans of U. S.; Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L., Palo Verdas Post No. 77; Veterans' Service Bureau of Southern California; Service Star League, Inc.; Daughters of St. George, Victoria Lodge 233; Pan American League, Los Angeles Branch; Great Council of California Improved Order of Red Men.

Cornish Society of Southern California; Hayward Area Chamber of Commerce; Castro Valley Farm Center; California Federation of Farm Bureaus; National Association of Advancement of Colored People; and the State Democratic Womens' Study Club.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties had previously endorsed Proposition 3 at their respective State conventions.

TRUCK DRIVER COLLAPSES

Great consternation was caused Tuesday morning when a San Leandro truck driver who had delivered a truck load of fruit to Hunt Foods Inc., collapsed. A huge crowd collected about the prostrate man and finally an ambulance was summoned to take him to the hospital. It was believed that he had collapsed from exhaustion.

Irving Townsend Writes From New Mexico

A letter from Irving Townsend, former Campbellite now connected with the United States Department of the Interior at the Aztec Ruins National Monument in Aztec, New Mexico, is always welcome to his many Campbell friends. Townsend writes:

"Dear Editor:

"Travel to this area has been good, but has not reached the amounts anticipated for any month. We rather expected a bumper crop of visitors, particularly during the three summer months just passed, but as with August when we had 2,462 visitors in 707 automobiles from 41 States and three foreign countries (China, Philippine Islands, Canada) we had believed that we would have had some 35 hundred.

"August brought considerable relief to the ranchers and sheep men with a fairly good rainfall and I expect from now until snow flies grazing will improve, or at least hold its own.

"In this valley of the San Juan Basin most of the peaches and pears have been harvested, with the exception of a few late varieties, and after the first few frosts, expected soon, the apple crop will be on its way. Melons of all varieties are now being picked as are many of the other truck garden crops.

"We have enjoyed your paper during the past year and as a means of catching up with our many friends, former school mates, and general news of Campbell and vicinity we shall be anticipating each new issue as it arrives from here on. The inclosed check for $2 will take care of that.

"IRVING D. TOWNSEND."

NEW ARRIVALS

Among Campbell's newest parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deklich, whose daughter, Diane Catherine, was born Sept. 10 at San Jose Hospital.

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fourner of Fruitvale Ave. The young man arrived Sept. 7 at O'Connor Hospital and has been named Michael Paul.

Plans For Election On Incorporation

64% of the personal property taxes.

"In lieu" taxes from automobile registrations amounting to 80 cents per capita.

Gasoline tax: This is divided as follows: 1 cent to the county; 1½ cents to the State; ¼ cent to the city; a further ¼ cent is returned to the city for use on major city streets.

Liquor taxes—half collected is returned to the city.

Fines from Police Court all go to the city.

Traffic fines, business licenses, dog and bicycle licenses, etc., are kept by the city.

Licenses for "out of town" tradesmen can also be levied if their trucks deliver within the city.

Franchise taxes from utilities can also be kept by the city.

Licenses for the erection of homes or business buildings can also be levied, and this should amount to a large sum since Campbell is developing so rapidly.

Campbell Women Contribute to Fair

Mrs. C. E. Williams, who is chairman of Campbell's entry in the County Fair instead of Mrs. Wyland Morgan as reported to the Press by the Fair Association, has, with the help of her committee, prepared an attractive booth which has won much praise.

Assisting her were Mrs. Wyland Morgan, Mrs. David Sanders, Mrs. E. R. Thompson, Mrs. L. R. Lewis and Mrs. David Ribble.

A large number of Campbell women have contributed to the Fair exhibitions. They include: Mesdames W. C. Henley, E. R. Kennedy, H. S. Young, D. W. Ribble, A. M. Johnson, R. J. Flagg, H. F. Evans, Earl Buck, Arthur Tindall, R. C. Page, J. C. Agostinho, E. L. Farnham, Miss Gladys Merriman, Mesdames C. B. Field, W. C. Higginbotham, R. Nelson, Edith Turner, Eva Grattan, E. R. THOUSANDS CLAIMED EACH YEAR BY CARELESS HUNTING MISHAPS

The hunted animal is not the only victim during the hunting season, says Julien H. Harvey, managing director of the National Conservation Bureau. Each Fall thousands of men and women who go into the woods to hunt are carried back out wounded, dying or dead. Scores of others are luckier—they are merely maimed.

"This needless destruction of human life can be prevented," the chief of the accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives declares. "Our hunters must decide whether or not human life is of more value than one or two extra deer or partridge.

"The hunter who blazes away whenever he hears a sound or glimpses a movement in the underbrush is criminally careless. In fact, carelessness and over-enthusiasm lie at the root of most of our hunting tragedies.

Hunting Precautions

"If all those who go on hunting trips this Fall would observe the following few simple precautions our 1946 hunting accident carnage will be greatly reduced," Mr. Harvey said.

1. Wear clothing whose color contrasts as much as possible with the foliage. Red has been proven the best color. A red cap, jacket, or shirt may save your life.
2. Don't drink while you are in the woods. Liquor and firearms don't mix.
3. When climbing fences or other obstuctions either unload your gun or be sure the safety catch is on. Always unload a shotgun.
4. Keep your gun pointed away from your partner or companions at all times. When walking with a group, carry your gun over your shoulder, muzzle upward, instead of slung in the crook of your arm.
5. Prdtect your general physical health while outdoors. Don't over-exert yourself, change wet clothing promptly, and get plenty of sleep at night.
6. Don't overshoot on the spur of the moment. Every time you fire your gun, know beyond doubt what you are shooting at. It is better to come back to camp minus a deer than carrying a wounded man over your shoulder.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH CENTER

The West's largest laboratory and experimental farm devoted exclusively to the development of new and improved agricultural chemicals was placed in operation recently near Modesto, Calif., by Shell Oil Company, Incorporated. Investing more than a half-million dollars in the project, the company employs a scientific staff of 30 to aid farmers in all phases of agricultural advancement.

Shell Oil Opens New Lab

United States farmers gained a new scientific partner yesterday when Shell Oil Company, Inc., dedicated and placed in operation its new half-million dollar agricultural laboratory and experimental farm, seven miles northwest of Modesto, Calif.

The new laboratory is the center of the company's agricultural research in the United States and the only one of similar size and scope in the West, according to Dr. Roy Hansberry, director.

It is surrounded by a 142-acre farm producing a variety of crops needed for field testing on a commercial scale. Construction of the research center was started a year ago. Facilities include a modern fireproof main building which accommodates research laboratories and administrative offices, three greenhouses with a connecting head house, a large lath house, and a service building for garages and shops.

The laboratory staff of 30 has been assembled from all sections of the country on the basis of specialized training and experience in every phase of agricultural science.

In explaining the need for the big research center, Dr. Hansberry stated a three-fold purpose. He said: "Most important, it is a research institution for developing new ideas. It is also a proving ground for natural and synthetic products derived from petroleum and finally, a clearing house of scientific knowledge and information where farmers' problems may be presented and solved."

ENROLLED AT U. OF C.

Among the students from Campbell attending the University of California at Berkeley is William Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Page. William, who was recently released from the Navy, is enrolled as a senior. His sister, Miss Nina Page, will enter San Jose State College on Monday.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

SEWING MACHINE CIRCULAR AVAILABLE

Winifred Jecker, of the Agricultural Extension Service, says that the circular on sewing machines gives directions for cleaning the sewing machine, oiling, adjustment of the stitch, and many other things to prevent annoyance. It gives a list of common troubles with the sewing machine and the possible causes. This circular is entitled, Care of Sewing Machines, and is available free of charge from your home demonstration agent, Mrs. Jecker, at the Agricultural Extension Service office, 201 Post Office Building, San Jose.

If the sewing machine runs hard, the stitches are imperfect, the material doesn't feed through th machine correctly, or the machine run noisily, it may need attention. Gummed oil or dirt in the bearings, dirt and lint collecting in critical parts of the machine, loose bearings, and many causes for trouble with the sewing machine may be detected and corrected at home. You can oil and clean your sewing machine, and make some very important adjustments yourself at home—all you will need to feel sure of yourself is the circular, Care of Sewing Machines.

THINK ABOUT WINTER PASTURES

Dairymen and livestock producers will be thinking of winter pasture crops again this year to relieve the acute feed situation. In spite of the bountiful 1946 hay and grain crops, feed supplies will be high in price, says M. S. Beckley of the Agricultural Extension Service.

In any well rounded program to develop a feed supply that will provide all the requirements, the fall and winter pastures should be planted in September or October with pre-irrigation to provide satisfactory pastures by Christmas.

Winter pasture crops not only provide feed of good quality, but usually provide it as lower cost than such nutrients can be obtained in any other form.

During the war years, there was a marked increase in use of pasture crops, both winter and summer, and of permanent types. Any available land, no matter how small in area, seeded to pastures will be helpful in the whole feed situation.

HYBRID CORN AND FARM PROGRESS

L. C. Barnard, Farm Advisor, says hybrid corn is one of those developments coming out of scientific research that brought real progress to the farm.

Hybrid corn was made possible by research in the field of genetics says Mr. Barnard. Less than 15 years ago, not many people knew about the hybrids. They were planted on only one out of every thousand acres of corn.

As soon as word was passed around that the hybrids yield up to a fifth more than open-pollinated types of corn, farmers started to plant it when they could get the seed. The United States Department of Agriculture reports that two out of every three corn acres in this country are planted to hybrids. The main thing holding back growers in California from using hybrids is lack of seed Before hybrid seed can be formed the best high-yielding parent stock has to be developed. This takes time.

Farmers of Santa Clara County have shown interest in hybrid corn because of the added vigor and production to be obtained.

If the increase in the acreage planted to hybrids keeps up practically all the corn planted will be hybrid—Mr. Barnard says this time is coming and it is not far away.

Jan Peerce To Open Concert Series In San Jose

Jan Peerce, America's leading tenor, hailed as Caruso's successor, appears as the opening event of the 11th annual San Jose Concert Series on Thursday evening, October 3. Superlatives have been exhausted in attempts to describe the voice of Jan Peerce. Said the Los Angeles Examiner critic on

Jan Peerce, Tenor

March 3, 1946, "Peerce has the voice of the decade. He is constantly compared to Caruso by the old-timers nad he deserves the accolade."

Born in New York, working his way through college by leading a dance band, Jan Peerce was singled out by America's greatest impressario, S. Hurok, seven years ago, and for five years has been leading tenor of the Metropolitan.

"The Hasty Heart"
First Fall Stage Event

The unparalleled comedy-drama, rated by the New York drama critic, Burne Mantle, "the best original play of the year", "The Hasty Heart", reaches San Jose for one performance on Sunday evening, Oct. 13. Erin O'Brien-Moore plays the lead of the young nurse, marking her return to the American theater since the war, during which she toured in "Over 21" throughout the war zones. Erin O'Brien had sensational success in London and New York in "Street Scene", and was the first actress to be given a feature write-up by Time Magazine. In pictures she played opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Dangerous Corner", with Paul Muni in "The Life of Emile Zola", and in many others.

Tickets for both events, as well as season tickets for the Concert Series, are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose Auditorium.

FALL SELECTION AT LIBRARY

To start off the fall season the library has added a well-rounded selection of books to tempt every taste. They include:

The Beacon, Bassett; Deborah, Castle; Long Storm, Haycox, Systematic Review of the Chipmunks of California, Johnson; White Fang, London; My Country-in-Law, Mian; The Best Years, Pitkin; American Animals, Stone; The White Deer, Thursber; The Snake Pit, Ward.

Flower Arranging, Vol. 2, Burroughs; Flowers: Their Arrangement, Conway; Let's Arrange Flowers, Dunlop; The Great Mouthpiece, Fowler; Famous Feats on Detection and nDeductio, Gribble; The Travels of Marco Polo, Polo; Penrod, Tarkington.

Cassell's New German and English Dictionary, Bruel; The Life of Emerson, Brooks; The California Cook Book, Callahan; Short Grass Country, Campbell; Denver Murders, Casey; Building Your New House, Catlin; The Innocents of Paris, Cesbron; The BX Trail, Colin; The Best of Science Fiction, Conklin; Wrap It Up, Dean; Sugarfoot and the Merry-Go-Round, De Mers.

English Traits; the Conduct of Life, Emerson; Nurse Barlow, Hancock; Mister Roberts, Heggen; The English Wave Newcomb, Mailland; Brave Nurse, Newcomb; You and the Universe, O'Neill; A Girl of the Limberlost, Porter; Clattering Hoofs, Raine; When You Build, Reid; The Fields, Richter; Greylock and the Robins, Robinson.

The Sisters Livingston, Scott; Fanfare for Elizabeth, Sitwell; Sunset Homes for Western Living, Sunset Magazine; High Border Country, Thane; You Can't Kill a Corpse, Trimble; The Colorado, Waters; Town Meeting Country, Webster; Peter Opens the Door, Whitehead.

Sugan, canning and oil are the San Francisco Bay region's outstanding industrial developments.

"Hasty Heart" Now Playing In San Francisco

"The Hasty Heart", John Patrick's New York comedy hit which has been enthralling and delighting audiences at the Geary Theater in San Francisco for the past month, enters the last two weeks of its engagement there.

Hailed as the finest comedy to be produced in many years, "The Hasty Heart" has as its featured players Erin O'Brien-Moore, Dean Harens and Whitner Bissell, while the balance of the brilliant cast are Vernon Steele, Charles Waldron Jr., Michael Garrison, Gilbert Frye, John Lightburn.

"The Hasty Heart" enjoyed a year's run on Broadway, where it was hailed by every critic in loud acclaim. Russell Lewis and Howard Young are the present producers.

Lovely Erin O'Brien-Moore appears as the lone feminine member in this production, while Whitner Bissel plays the dour Scotsman about whom all the comedy revolves. It is his manner which is responsible for much of the merriment. Settings are by Raymond Sovey, and the comedy has been staged by Harry Ellerbe.

Agreeing with the New York critics in every instance, San Francisco's drama desks have been loud in applause for "The Hasty Heart" which, at the end of its engagement at the Geary Theater on Saturday night, Sept. 28, starts an extended tour beginning with Seattle, Washington.

The engagement of "The Hasty Heart" will positively end on Saturday night, Sept. 28.

HAS INTRESTING EXPERIENCE IN SAN FRANCISCO

Gerry Greenberg, Campbells clever metal craftsman, had an intesting time in San Francisco last week on a two days' business trip. He spent an entire 'day with Charles Gassoin, chief designer for the City of Paris Department Store, and heard the details of plans for modernizing the famous store. Greenberg is the owner and operator of the Associated Metal Products Co., and an inspired designer in his own right.

Coming Attraction at Campbell Theater

Famed Film To Be Shown Soon

Mail orders are now being accepted for the only Northern California engagement of William Shakespeare's "Henry V", which begins Monday evennig, Sept. 30, at the new Stage Door Theater, 430 Mason St., San Francisco. The Technicolor film, starring Laurence Olivier in the title role, is sponsored by the Theater Guild. It will be shown twice dafly, including Sundays, with all seats reserved.

"Henry V" marks a distinct departure in the production of a Shakespearean play. In many ways it is a "photographed play" which shifts to motion picture technique whenever the scenes demanded by Shakespeare are too vast in size and importance to be portrayed adequately in a playhouse. The film has all the flavor and humor of the famed Globe Theater in which so many of the Bard's plays were first performed In fact, this production begins with a performance of "Henry V" in the Globe Theater.

The film has received enthusiastic acclaim in all five American cities in which it has thus far been shown. It had its American premiere in Boston 23 weeks ago and is still playing there. It is also being exhibited in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago and Baltimore.

In addition to his title-role chores Laurence Olivier also produced and directed the film in England. Many players in the cast are members of the Old Vic Company which recently flew from London to New York to present a repertory of plays which was a highlight of the Broadway theatrical season.

KEITH TINDALL IMPROVING

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tindall will be pleased to know that their son, Keith, hospitalized with polio, is steadily improving and is now able to use his paralyzed arm to some extent. His response to treatment is steadily increasing and it is expected that he will be allowed to return home soon.

Mrs. Tindall is speading a few days resting at the coast and waiting for his release.
